

Hell, no. Have you people lost your mind. What is the benefit to whom? Cell phones on airlines is a Pandora's box looking for some place to open. The potential for disaster is infinitesimal. Oh, I see, you want to assist the terroist in being able to more precisely coordinate their activities. This is truly an asinine idea. Only in America.